Sir Francis Drake and the Spanish Armada

Key Stage 2

Detailed Workshop Outline

1. The session begins by introducing the students to the Spanish Armada, via an eboard presentation.
2. Next, students explore objects and primary source evidence about the Spanish Armada from The Box's collection.
3. Students use worksheets to explore the objects in depth. They identify what clues they can gain from the evidence, and what gaps are left in their knowledge.
4. The students then present back about their ideas.
5. The students then become journalists, reporting on the Spanish Armada, using the evidence that they have gathered. These are recorded on voice recording devices.
6. The session concludes by listening to each other's work, which is sent back to school after the session.

Preparing for your session

Visit The Hoe in Plymouth to gain a sensory perspective of the location of this history.

Use a Globe to identify where Plymouth and Spain are, and how Medina Sidona would have travelled to Plymouth.

This session focusses on the Spanish Armada, but there are many other events and perspectives of Francis Drake that you could explore with your class, for example his circumnavigation of the globe, whether he was a Pirate or Privateer, or his role as the Mayor of Plymouth.

Plan a pre-visit to The Box before you come with your class, so you are familiar with the environment and spaces before your visit.
